Post-Traumatic Stress Disorder is discussed from a Western medical perspective and psychology, and also through the eyes of Chinese medicine. The book features case studies and research treatment protocols from the US Army PTSD treatment program for returning soldiers from the Iraq and Afghanistan conflicts. To contrast, Dr. Wang and Dr. Jiang will provide information on CM and integrative treatments provided for survivors of the Sichuan earthquake.