European Journal of Gastroenterology & Hepatology

Publishes papers reporting original clinical and scientific research which are of a high standard and which contribute to the advancement of knowledge in the field of gastroenterology and hepatology.

The European Journal of Gastroenterology and Hepatology has established a position as a leading forum in the field for the dissemination of original research. With the explosion in recent years of high-quality research, the need for swift publication has become of paramount importance. In addition to original articles, the journal features in-depth reviews, each comprising a series of related reviews on an area of special interest, commentaries on some of the original research presented and a "News from Europe" section highlighting forthcoming meetings and courses.
