

Ovid®

Annals of Pediatric Surgery

Rely on Ovid as the trusted solution that transforms research into results

Published in cooperation with the Egyptian Ministry of Higher Education and State Ministry for Scientific Research (ENSTINET), the journal focuses on clinical care, technical innovation and clinical research in pediatric surgery.

The journal is proud to be affiliated with the following societies: Mediterranean Association of Pediatric Surgeons (MAPS); Pan-African Pediatric Surgical Association (PAPSA); The Egyptian Pediatric Surgical Association (EPSA); and Arab Association of Pediatric Surgeons (AAPS).

The journal provides relevant scientific information to not only to pediatric surgeons in the Middle East and North Africa, but also to those practicing internationally. It publishes original papers on topics in general pediatric surgery, pediatric urology, pediatric plastic and reconstructive surgery, pediatric otolaryngology, and pediatric surgical training and accreditation. Also featured are case reports, 'How to' papers, articles on our surgical heritage, collective and current reviews, correspondence, and book reviews.

Front File - 2015 to Present

Archives available for purchase

Author/Editor	Elhalaby, Essam
Publisher	Lippincott Williams & Wilkins (LWW)
ISSN	1687-4137
Platform	OvidMD, Ovid
Product Type	Journal
Speciality	Pediatrics Surgery
Language	English
Frequency	Quarterly
Coverage	See Description